the Tammany leader had a talk in the course of the afternoon.

Gov. Dix was asked at the Manhattan if he had any reason to believe that Mr. Murphy's enthusiasm for him had de-creased. The Governor replied: "I don't see how Mr. Murphy could change. My renomination is a party matter. The party couldn't afford to repudiate the administration on which it has to go before the people. The Governor was reminded of Mr. Bryan's prediction that the party in this

"Will Gov. Wilson's objection to your renomination have no influence either? "Gov. Wilson has made no statement

These facts were learned yesterday while Gov. Dix was in town. They were set forth, not by the Governor or Mr. Murphy, but by men who have talked recently with both of them. One of these men said:

"Is the Governor confident that he will be renominated? He is more—he is sure of it. You ought to see the letters he has been getting from delegates and others who tell him the convention will indorse him on the record of his administration. He knows that the number of delegates who will vote for other candidates will not pass fifty."
